The seven Russians confirm the truthfulness of the official Japanese reports which told of the sinking of several ships of the Russian fleet. They say that the Japanese would have been able to accomplish this at any time during the past two months but that apparently they preferred to use their guns against the forts. the hope of capturing the fortress.

The Japanese, the Russians say, have lost three torpedo boats in the past month, the last one sinking dur ing the night attack of December 14. According to these informants, fighting during which High Hill was captured, was terrific, that hill alone

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! LONDON, Dec. 17 .- [Excluive Dispatch.] The newspaper give prominence to the discussion in shipping circles in Great Britain of a proposal to cut a new Suez Canal to parallel the existing one. The scheme was proposed in 1882, when a survey was made.

The agitation arises from a revolt on the part of shipowners against what they contend are excessive canal dues, which exceed the cost of coal for a voyage around the Cape of Good Hope, for which reason many cargo carriers are unable to use the canal. It is instanced that it cost Russia £17,000 to get the Baltic fleet through.

Here, in the twentieth century, in the heart of New York, is this startling story from real life of a beautiful young woman, absolutely sane, so her friends affirm, seized from daily life at the instance of relatives for motives that are yet to be explained, consigned to company of mumbling fools and raving maniacs.

According to Leo Bamberger, who is cting as lawyer for Miss Spang, she was sent to an asylum by the wish of her mother. She spent six months in an asylum. And today, the pretty young heiress was declared by six reputable physicians, two nurses and

COURT CONSIDERING MOTION [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] DENVER, Dec. 16.—The Suprem Court has taken under consideration the motion of attorneys for the Re-publican party to eliminate from the official count the entire vote of four Denver precincts in which frauds have been shown in the trial of election officials for contempt of court.

These precincts, with the one whose vote has already been ordered thrown out, returned 1453 Democratic and 276 Republican votes. If these votes are all rejected, the Republicans gain three members of the State Senate from the city and county of Denver. If no other changes be made, the Senate will then be a tie, the Lieutenant-Governor, a Republican, having the deciding vote. The Republicans propose, if they obtain control of the Senate, to unseat two Democrats, who were seated on contempt case was tried by the Supreme Court today and the decision in the case from precinct No. 2, Seventh Ward, has been postponed until Monday.

HONOLULU ELECTION CHARGES

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] HONOLULU, Dec. 16.-[By Pacific Cable.] Sixteen members, constituting a majority of the Federal grand jury summoned in special session by Presid-ing Judge Dole of the United States District Court to investigate charges summoned in special session by Presiding Judge Dole of the United States District Court to investigate charges that in the last campaign certain election officers intimidated the voters, made improper use of identification marks and otherwise destroyed the secrecy of the ballot, reported today that they found no evidence which would warrant them in indicting any person for violating the Federal laws. The minority of six members separately report to Judge Dole that they found sufficient evidence to justify conviction of those charged with the offenses complained of but that the majority of the grand jury refused to continue the investigation, which, it is alleged by the minority, would probably expose more fraudulent practices in the late election.

The minority members express the belief that the territorial administration was responsible for the non-enforcement of the law and recomment belief that the territorial administra-tion was responsible for the non-en-forcement of the law and recommend amendments by Congress so that the secrecy of the ballot shall be protected. In the late election, they say, there was practically no secrecy, and hence intimidations were rendered easy.

This afternoon, an order was received at the jail by Sheriff Barry directing him to deny all people the privliege of seeing her, and he at once ordered that the nurse, Freda Swan-strom, who was then in the jall, with Mrs. Chadwick, be ordered to leave. During the forenoon, Mrs. Chadwick showed considerable ill humor. She announced that her breakfast did not suit her, and declared that hereafter she would order her meals from a restaurant, which supplied an entire and more or less comprehensive repast for 25 cents.

Two local attorneys called in the morning, but the prisoner refused to see them. A few minutes after declining to see them, Mrs. Chadwick saw an attorney named Fay, who came from Elyria.

An Associated Press representative was then admitted to the matron's quarters, where Mrs. Chadwick is Mrs. Chadwick was sitting on a couch with a silken robe thrown across her lap, and was resting her chin in her hands, a picture of mingled despair and anger. DEPEW'S FRIENDS SORE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—From all that can be gathered today, it is more than evident that friends of Senator Depew do not regard the conference which was called by Gov. Odell last night in this city as at all conclusive. They were emphatic today in the statement that a meeting called, they said, very informally, and proceeding without orinformally, and proceeding without or-ganization, could not be regarded as ganization, could not be regarded as having a decided effect, except that it showed conclusively that former Governor Black might be regarded as definitely in the field. The whole meeting it said to have shown a calm and friendly tone, although Senator Depew's most partisan supporters spoke with some warmth.

There were present at the conference twenty-five men, seven of whom were members of the Legislature. Of the seven members of the Legislature present, four spoke in support of Senator Depew, one was non-committal, and two were for Black, while it is understood that a majority of the rest of the conference were in favor of Gov. Black.

Senator Foraker asked the witness if she had ever heard of the Endowment House penalties being enforced against anyone. She said she had not.

Tayler asked if she expected to suffer by reason of giving testimony here. Mrs. Elliott said that she expected that her business would suffer.

He said that apostles of the church from Utah go into Idaho and direct the people how to vote. High church officials, said Jackson, tell their people there have been revelations that they should vote a certain ticket, and also that the Mormon church desires it. He told of the visit of Apostle John Henry Smith for the purpose of directing legislation, and said that the induced of the Church accomplished the passage of the Sugar Bounty Bill.

The witness gave in narrative form the history of the protests against Mormon interference which had been made with Democrats in the last campaign. Jackson said the Mormons declared that not avoid would be given to the Democrats, and, said the witness, "they made good." He stated as his belief that not one Mormon voted the Democratic ticket. As a result, he said, the increase of Republican majorities in the Mormon counties, compared with the increase of Republican majorities in the Gentile counties, was enormous.

Replying to questions by Senator Cullom, Mr. Bacon said that the shippers would prefer the suspension of rates for sixty days pending an appeal with a time limit on appeals to giving unlimited time and allowing the rates to go into immediate effect. He said in response to Senator Ekins that unless it should be ultimately decided that the rate fixed by the commission was too low, the railroads would have no recourse on account of the loss sustained, but he agreed with Senator Tillman that such a condition would

THAT STATEHOOD MESS. SENATORS ARE PROBING IT.
18Y DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] It is not as sure as it was that the United States Senate is going to swallow at one gulp the Statehood mess that the Senate Committée on Territories concocted and sent to the nate yesterday. Senators who have faith in Senator Bard's judgment have commenced to look into the matter with considerable care, to find out why Senator Bard, who knows all about the senator Bard, who knows an about the country proposed to be moulded into new and vast States, opposes this les-islation so strongly, and the more they look into it the more they come around to the idea that this proposi-tion is one that will stand considerable around to the idea that this proposition is one that will stand considerable discussion before action is had upon it.
As the result of this uneasiness on the part of Senators, the managers of the Statchood Bill have become alarmed. They got badly scared today when Senator Bate of Tennessoc gave notice that he would move to sen'il the bill back to the committee. Then came Senator Bard with an amendment limiting the action of the bill to kalonoma and Indian Territory on'ty leaving Arizona and New Mexico as they are now, and as Arizona, at any rate, says she wants to be left. The notice was served that, after the holidays, there will be a minority reporon the bill, making four States instead of two, and in addition there was general talk that there will not be time at this session to consider the bill, and that some Senators think the whole business would better go over till next session.

PHILIPPINE RAILROADS.

PROPOSITION BEFORE TAFT.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary Taft has been assured by some of the biggest financiers in this country that if Congres-adopts his recommendations for a guarantee on money invested in the Philippine railroads, the funds for the enterprise will promptly be forthcom-ing. The proposition is to build a trunk line 1000 miles in length, and the trunk line 1000 miles in length, and the estimated cost is $30,000,000.

Among the men interested in this matter is Sir William Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific. He built roads in Cuba that are controlled by a Cuban company, and knows the difficulties to be encountered in similar construction in the Philippines. When the question of Philippines when the question of Philippine railroads first came up in the War Department, under the administration of Secretary Root, Sir William suggested that a survey of a desirable route be made. Secretary Root thereupon appointed two civil engineers to make the survey and estimate the cost for a line running north from Manila through the province of Lugon.

He told of the visit of Apostle John Henry Smith for the purpose of directing legislation, and said that the influence of the church accomplished the passage of the Sugar Bounty Bill. This measure places a State bounty of 1 cent a pound on all sugar manufactured within the State in 1903 and a cent a pound for all sugar manufactured in 1904. It is estimated that the hounty in 1903 amounted to 576,000, and in 1904 to $150,000. There are four refinerles in the State, and President Toseph Bmith of the Mormon church is president of three of them. The cently, and is controlled by Gentiles. Speaking of the influence of the church on political affairs in the State, Jackson took as an illustration the defeat of Gov. Morrison for a second nomination. He declared that Gov. Morrison's administration had been satisfactory to his Republican constituents, but that he ran foul of the Mormon church, and therefore was denied a second term.

In this connection, Jackson said with implassis: "It is impossible for any man or any party to stand against the mophasis: "It is impossible for any man or any party to stand against the twenty-one counties are known as solidly Mormon, and the Mormons are in control, and in that way, he said, the church is practically in charge of the Legislature, political conventions, and all gatherings at which delegates are elected by the people.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] Well posted men at the capital said today that while there may be considerable agitation during the present session of Congress on the subject of governmental review of railway rates, there is not likely to be conclusive action between now and the 4th of March. It is quite poswible, however, they say, that discussion of the subject at this session may lead to the authorization of an inquiry by a special committee of the House and Senate Committee on Interstate Committee during the recess, it was predicted with equal emphasis that Congress, at its next session, will be compelled by public pressure to deal with this question of railway rates. These men went on to say further that the proposition to vest in the Interstate Commerce Commission increased powers in the premises is meeting with less favor, and that if Congress does anything, it is more likely to be along the line of the creation of a semi-judicial body to review and arbitrate rates. Senator Elkins has not yet introduced his bill for the creation of a court, and it is not known when he will have it read. On July 14, 1963, Mr. Havens was appointed United States Commissioner, with headquarters at Imperial, and to him were referred the many complicated land and water-rights claims. Affidavits were made before him regarding these several claims, and it is said that in the performance of these particular duties the commissioner encountered his first fierce opposition.
Two factions were at war in the valley, and the commissioner was called upon to decide many vexed questions. Disgruntied settlers began to cry out loudly against the Federal official, and serious charges were made against him before Judge Wellborn.
Enemies of the commissioner declare their charges to be absolutely true, and cite as proof of their claims, the resignation of the official, and the fact that he will ask for no investigation.

When the matter was laid before Judge Wellborn, after a caceful investigation, Havens received an unmistakable suggestion that the resignation of the commissioner would be accepted.

some bad ancestors; a rather weak man doing well, under good influences. His father and his father's brothers had taken the vessels and treasures from God's house to Saal's, the doors were removed and any could enter. His first plan was a failure because he and Jeholada put it in the hands of the wrong one, priests and Levites, who were 'ealous of money raised for that purpose, one priests and Levites, who were 'ealous of money raised for that purpose, and were negligent besides. Then they devised a new plan, taking the work out of their hands and turning it over to the chief priest and Joash's private secretary, who called for free will offerings, put a chest in a convenient place to receive the money and appointed competent, energetic and trustworthy merchants to have it done. It was at last finished and Joash is to be credited with a great work.

(8.) His "Message to Judah" 1:1-2, 18:30, is our introduction to the writings and speeches of the greatest of the propheta. He was born about 760 B. C., began preaching the year the great kinst Usziah died and continued to preach through the reigns of Jotham, Ahas and Hesekish. He was highly connected well cultured, a poet, a seer, an orator, statesman and preacher. He had a controlling influence on his times. He saw the mation polluted by contact with Israel and lived through the isiter's fall. He saw the two sreat world powers, Assyria and Egypt, struggling for supremacy and Judah was in between them. He studies the situation carefully prepared addresses and personal influence. He depicts their sins and the terrible results in their own character and sufferings and in the condition of their outlying country. He has a worl of hope, conditioned on their being washed and cleansed and living new lines. He makes that hope more hopeful by teiling them that God will cleanes if they are willing and submissive and obedient.

"GENERAL" MOORE DENOUNCED AS CONVICT AND GRAFTER.

Never Gave a Meal to a Hungry Man—Makes Big Money Off Two Lodging-houses and Probably Col-lects as Much More from Charitable

"General" A. W. Moore's bad temper has been aggravated by the joits to which his "Union Mission Army" graft has been subjected.

The humane ideas of C. H. Anning, who took charge of Moore's East Fourth-street lodging-house in the belief that it was a charity instead of a "graft," which it in reality is, led to an outburst on the part of the bogus "general" yesterday.

Anning insisted that charity should be shown in the cases of hungry men who took Moore at his word in advertising a free lunch counter. Anning is a vigorous man past 60 years of

"I went to the place five months ago because I had nowhere else to go, under the impression that it was an honest charty, but I soon became convinced that it was run entirely for Moore's personal benefit.

"Every dollar that he unjustly gathers from the public in the name of charity goes into his own pockets, and in addition to that he makes more than $100 a month, clear of all expenses, from the lodging-house. He has shother in San Francisco that pays him as much more at the lowest estimate, for he told me himself that it averaged receipts of $7 a day.

"The smallest sum I took in any night was $4.75 and the highest $6.40. It is perfectly safe to say it averaged $5 a night and the total expenses were but $37.50 per month.

"The place has seventy-two cheap double bunks which he rents at 10 and It cents per night and the lo-cent ones are always full. He has a lunch counter with a row of sugar bowls, catsup bottles and other things usually seen at such places, but it is only a blind to fool people who come to investigate. Nobody ever gets a bite to eat there except those who take care of the place, and they don't live very high.

"That man is doing more harm to Christianity than ten men can do good; he is simply poisoning the people against it. It is an outrage that the people of Los Angeles continue to let him impose upon them. He thinks they are an easy mark, for he said to me in a letter not long ago:

"Send me all the money you can raise, even if you have to run behind for the rent, and when I come down there I'll solicit funds and pay up. The people of Los Angeles continue to let him impose upon them. He thinks they are an easy mark, for he said to me in a letter not long ago:

"Send me all the money you can raise, even if you have to run behind for the rent, and when I come down there I'll solicit funds and pay up. The people of Los Angeles are very liberal about Christmas time.

"He abuses his wife, who left him once, and she told me if he ever laid hands on her again she would have him arrested.

"He is a

MADRID, Dec. 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] King Alfonso has approved the new Cabinet, which is as follows: Premier and Minister of Marine, Gen. Ascarraga: Finance, Señor Castellano; Interior, Señor Vardillao: Foreign Affairs, Marquis Aguilar de Campo; Instruction, Señor Laclerya: Justice, Señor Ugarte: Agriculture, Señor Cardenas; War, Gen. Villar.

It is said that Premier Azcarraga will act only as Minister of Marine ad interim in the absence of Admiral Vinleyre, Premier Azcarraga announces that he will continue the policy of his predecessors, Silvela and Maura, but his tenure of office is expected to be brief. The new Cabinet is not considered a strong one. Forner Premiers Maura and Villaverde have promised it their support, but their friends refused to accept portfolios in it.

GREET JOEY WITH GROANS.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Joseph Chamberlain addressed a meeting of London East Enders last night. The hall was East Enders last night. The hall was filled to overflowing, and an immense gathering outside showed a disposition to create a hostile demonstration of the unemployed, who paraded in front of the building and greeted Chamberlain on his arrival with groans. This was offset by the reception in the interior of the building. Chamberlain, who was greeted with cheering lasting several minutes, devoted his speech largely to a discussion of the fiscal question.

A fine life-size bust portrait of the late George W. Simonton was presented to the city High School yesterday afterneon, through the contributions of the students and teachers. The presentation took place in the campus, where all the students and teachers were assembled, and the address was made by Henry W. Gurren, one of the senior class boys. Prof. J. H. Mr. Simonton was for many years a member of the Board of Education, and it was through his efforts that the Sloyd system was introduced into the city schools. THREE men were burned to death between 4:30 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a fire which destroyed the Eureka planing mill, at Sixth street and Santa Fé avenue, and the adjacent dwellings. All six latter are carpenters who, with Todd, Monell and Heap, were employed in the carpenter shop.
The fire started in the explosion of a tank of distillate from which a 60tank of distillate from which a 60 a tank of distillate from which a 60-horsepower gasoline engine was fed, and the flames spread with such rapid-ity and flerceness that within fifteen minutes the whole plant was a furnace. There were, so far as can be ascer-tained, eighteen men at work in and about the buildings at the time, all but the remaining fifteen one was head and another from shoulder to wrist. A peculiar feature of the fire was the sudden disappearance, within a half hour, of all these fifteen employes. The most diligent inquiry on the part of police officers, firemen and other persons who were investigating, failed to disclose the wherestouts of any of the workmen save B. B. Weller, a saw-filer who had been at work under that portion of the building where Todd, McNeil and Keith lost their lives. Weller gave the following brief account of what he knew of the fire: unt of what he knew of the fire

FIREMEN AT WORK.

Half a dozen streams were soon playing on the acre of burning buildings, but the chief effect of the water seemed to be an increase of smoke rather than a lessening of flames. It was a turnace that would only stop burning when there was no more material to be consumed.

Big crowds soon collected at the scene, many drawn thither from distant points by the great column of smoke that rose. Ropes were stretched by police and firemen, but, the report having spread that several bodies were buried in the glowing ruins, these copses did little to hold back the constantly increasing throngs.

Shortly before dusk word went out from the edge of the ruins that firemen had found two charred bodies. Instantly there was a rush for the point where a group of firemen and policemen were bending over an in.istinguishable heap, shading their faces with their arms from the intense glare and heat. It was a brief, hard fight to keep some of the curious people from overrunning the fire line and rushing into the area of hot embers to satisfy their morbid curiosity. The skillful handling of a hose-stream and a sudden shower of water without warning, did more to clear the ground than sould have been accomplished by a dozen bluecoats. Unwillingly the crowd gave back.

It was not two, but three corpses the firemen had found. Burned, charred and blackened beyond much semblance to human form, they lay in a heap of debris at the north edge of the burned area, midway between the cast and west extremes of the demolished building. The condition of the bolics was not such as should be described.

More than an hour after their discovery, and when spray-streams of water had been used to cool the depits, immediately surrounding, firemental undertakers' men lifted the black-ened corpses from the ruins and placed them in an ambulance. By order of the Coroner they were removed to deare after it had received its plitful load.

SEARCH GOES ON.

SEARCH GOES ON.

Following the finding of these bodies sine a persistent rumor that a fourth came a persistent rumor that a fourth life had been sacrificed in the fire. There was no circumstance to support this, but diligent search was nevertheless made, and firemen from time to time ventured as far into the emberheaped and still blasing plot as the spasmedic rise and fall of the fiames would permit. With their naked hands the searchers raked heaps of watersosked and cooled debris. Their labors were rewarded by the finding of two small sections of human body, but later at the morgue it seemed fairly certain that these dismembered portions belonged to one of the three bodies previously found, and did not indicate the loss of a fourth life.

One of these three bodies was completely burned off below the knees. Persons at the fire suggested that this indicated that a burning timber had fallen across the man's body at the knees. It is a merciful likelihood that not one of the three victims suffered long, though their agonies must have been long furnace death could not have been great while life lasted. One breath of fame inhaled brings loss of consciousness quickly, and in such a seething furnace death could not have been long delayed.

SORROWFUL HOUSEHOLDS.

served: The mill plant and the three burned cottages occupied a rectangular plot bounded by East Sixth, Jesse, Santa Fé and Mesquite. The mill building faced 120 feet on Sixth street and fifty feet on Santa Fé. In the Sixth-and-Santa Fé corner of the building was the office. On the root immediately east of the office was the tank of distillate. Under this roof and back of the office was the engine-room. Back of the office was the engine-room, story section of the building, occupied on the ground floor by the machine shop and on the upper floor by the carpenter shop. The west windows of the latter shop faced the distillate tank on the one-story roof and fifty feet away.

South of the mill building and the seething furnace death could not have been the question of the mill building and the mill yards stood a one-story frame cottage occupied by a negro family by name Barkley. East of and immediately adjoining the two-story section of the mill building stood an unoccupied one-story frame house, owned by A. L. Bennett. Adjoining this on the east was a one-story frame dwelling, occupied by E. H. Duncan and family and owned by Bennett. These three cottages were destroyed. Adjoining the Duncan's house on the east is a two-story frame house occupied by Patrolman Frank Whalen and his family. That this house was not destroyed is due largely to the efforts of a number of Santa Fé yard employes, who were able to reach the scene before the arrival of the Gre department, and who did splendid work then and afterward.

SPREAD OF FLAMES.

The story of the spread of the flames is perhaps told best by the foreman, Frank B. McCabe. He said:

"I think the fire started through a leakage of distillate from the tank or pipes, though there may have been an explosion. As soon as the fire broke out I got to the roof where the tank was located, between the office sec-

It will not be as a suicide that Marshall will be buried at his bothis city next Sunday.

An inquest was held yesterd

Tuesday night, and the burning oil splashed over him, setting his clothes and the house afire. Sanchez succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not before nearly every stitch of clothing was burned from his body. He sustained what the doctors call a fourth-degree burn, the skin being burned to a crisp from the armpits to a point below the knees. In all that surface, including both arms, there was not a particle of cuticle intact.

Although there are four inhabited houses within 150 feet of Sanchez's home, no notice was taken of the fire by any of the neighbors, and the sufferer's groans were unheard until Tuesday aftern-on, when Mrs. Poyerena, a neighbor, accidentally discovered the victim of the burning and hastened to call assistance.

Sanchez presented a horrible spectacle when the neighbors found him. Naked almost as the day on which he was born, and with flesh seared and blackened, he lay on the floor barely conscious. Cold and hunger had increased the torment he suffered from his burns.

Mrs. Mayberry and others of the neighbors gave him stimulants and ministered to him as best they could until Dr. Cory arrived and took charge of the case. Later, through kindness of Hugh Stewart, general passenger agent of the Pacific Electric Railway, the injured man was removed to the County Hospital.

Although conscious and talkative, Sanchez was unable to account 'or the explosion of the lamp. He stated, however, that he was sober when the accident occurred, as he quit drinking about three months ago when a friend remonstrated with him for imbibling too much.

The charter amendment ilmiting the term of all street franchises to twentyone years bids fair to put a sudden step to the extension of local street railway lines.

A couple of months ago the Council sold a franchise over the street for an incline railway. D. F. The Court Street Improvement Association is objecting on the ground that there will not be enough traffic to make both enterprises paying propositions. They say that Donegan's obect is to get possession of twenty feet of the street and use it for a new building. This they think would be too much in the nature of a special privilege. Mr. Donegan was not present at the Board meeting yesterday afternoon and the petition and protest were continued one week.

Three long shots in one day and one of the fastest sprinters in the United States finishing eleven lengths behind the winner in a race that she is sup-posed to shine in, is about enough to hold almost any aggregation of sports that try to make an honest living or on something that was tied up by a form reversal.

Descuento at 20 to 1, Dutiful at 10 to 1, and Mart Gentry at 15 to 1 is a very strong combination of long shots to try and beat with the favorites, and the fact that they won means that others didn't. It was a very hard day for those on the ground, and each book must have cleaned up several barrels of money on the day, for it was the worst the most of the sports have had sin't the meeting opened. Escalante and Requiter were the only favorities to win, and as they were both even money shots in against other good ones, there was not a large amount played on these.

Helgerson, the apparent dead one who has used up lots of money every time he has started, finally won yesterday, but many who had heretofore played him had either been made tramps or were tired of trying to get something back, and stayed off. On such occasions such dogs always win, and he scored yesterday very easily from a bad field. There were no favorites in that race, for there could not be any, it being a sort of write-your-own-ticket affair.

TWO FAVORITES SCORE.

Escalante won again in the third race at five and one-half furiongs, equaling the track record of 1:07½, made by Best Man last March. This was the race in which the crack sprinter, Delagoa, was beaten eleven lengths. From all appearances this mare is being held in so a price can be secured against her, but any horse that has run three-quarters in better than 1:13 cannot be much of a long shot with horses like we have here. Of course, Tooman was up as a jock, and some of the unkind sports remarked that if someone had slipped a Delagoa ticket in his bootleg, the mare might have been a dozen lengths nearer the wire at the finish.

The fourth race went to the favorite, Requiter, who beat Mad Mullah a head, in a driving finish. The good horse, Funny Side, set the pace clear into the stretch, and then stopped, as it shot. It might be remarked that Requiter caught his head in the barrier at the start, and got away last, but easily ran around the others after geing into his stride.

The usual lerge crowd was at the track, and the betting was fairly good, considering the scare passed around by possible long shots due to arrive. Enough arrived to make all the sports remember the day, however.

The big thing of the day popped up in the first race in the victory of the unknown Descuento, at closing odds of 20 to 1. It was a timid race for everyone, for one or two of the books held out the unknown, and others had him from 20 to '0 to win. A number of the sports heard that a long shot was to land, but they could not guess what it was, for there were three 100 to 1 shots in, one 0, and a 7 to 1. The books held the three Baldwin horses as an entry at 2 to 6, and few could buy any of this at that price. Outside of the entry Descuento and Zu Zu were new ho see, and the other long shots couldn't be figured to have a chance. As a result there was, really very little money bet on the race, and every horse in it went up in the betting. It looked as if three horses belonging to one string could sew up anything else that might have a chance, but this didn't happen, for the new Descuento shot to the front at the start, and under a vigorous ride by Renecamp, kept there to the end, winning by a neck from Pacifico. The others were strung out for about a hundred yards, the third drorse, Retador, being eight lengths behind the two leaders.

The next longest bird to sail in was Mart Gentry, in the last race, who opened at 6 to 1 and closed at 15. He was away nicely, and with his speed and his light weight he easily stayed near the pacemaker, Homebred, all the way, and shot to the front in the last fev Jumps. Doctor C, managed to get up just in time to beat the fast-coming Cotillion for the place, the last fev Jumps. Yesterday he was self and sore, apparently, and may be able to win later on.

The third best long shot

The favorite Lustig finished outside of the money, after running second into the stretch. Then he stopped like a dog. This vace of Dutiful looked very funny or peculiar, for in his race on Thursday he ran absolutely last in a field of eight, and was beaten about eighteen lengths in a mile and seventy yards. He was never better than fourth then, and was sixth in the stretch. Yesterday he came out carrying five more pounds in a shorter race and jumping into the lead at once, showed the others the way to the wire.

The effect has been to reduce the amount of intemperance in the locality. Shops that have been selling wood alcohol for pure liquors have loss trade and several of them have closed their doors. Manager John ston tells me that current expenses have been met. The only unpleasant repisodes have been the visit of Mrs. Carrie Nation and one intrusion of the rowdy element—probably instigated by the old-line saloon-keepers, who do not wish the experiment to succeed. To the American pioneers in this reform the declaration that Bishop Whitehead of Pennsylvania intends to start taverns on a similar plan is received with rejoicing. He will begin in the charges.

The recent action of Postmaster-General Wynne, in dismissing from the government service certain letter carriers because of their pernicious po-litical activity, will doubtless meet the of the country. The carriers dis missed were charged with insubordi-nation, with being absent from duty without leave, and with violation of the President's order of January 31, 1902, prohibiting individual or or-ganized attempts of government emoloyés to influence legislation or so-

The case of Frank A. Cunningham, one of the carriers dismissed, was especially flagrant. Cunningham was president of the National Association of Rural Carriers. In October last he applied to the postmaster at South Omaha, under whom he served, for forwarded to Washington, but the Postoffice Department refused to ap-prove it. Notwithstanding this revoting his entire time to efforts to se-cure pledges from candidates for Congress to support the bill which the carriers' association had drawn up, providing for an increase of their pay.

The President's order in express terms forbids "all government officers and employes, either directly or indirectly, individually or through as-sociations, to solicit an increase of pay, or to influence or attempt to in-fluence in their own interest any other luence in their own interest any other pegiclation whatever, either before Congress or its committees, or in way save, through the headquarters in or under which they are serving, on penalty of dismissal from the government service." It is apparent that the action of Cunningham was in direct violation of this order, in addition to be the art of of this order, in addition to being an act of gross insubordination. Neither of-fense could have been tolerated with-out weakening the efficiency and the discipline of the postal service, which reaches all the people, and in which all the people are directly interested.

Obviously, the action taken by Postmaster-General Wynne in these cases (and in the similar cases of W. F. Tumber of Lockport, N. Y., and H. W. Aldrich of Concord, N. Bright Red Star Run Down by Orb of Night—Interesting Lecture Before Normal.

Of unusual interest was a Jecture before the students of the State Normal School yesterday, by William H. Knight of the Acamedy of Sciences. His subject was "The Approaching Occultation of Aldebaran by the Moon."

Mr. Knight gave a graphic account of the advance of the moon upon the bright, red star; its sudden extinction by the moon, and its reappearance after the lapse of an hour at the opposite periphery of the moon. "Aldebaran is one of the mighty suns of the universe," said Mr. Knight, "with a diameter of $,000,000 miles, and a surface-area eighty times greater than that of our own sun. Its attended by a companion ten times farther from its primary, than our most distant planet, Neptune, is from its central and controlling orb."

His granofather, the first and Iron Duke, had capsured them, together with much of the baggare of King Joseph when the latter was driven by the English to abandon his Spanish crown. Peace declared. King Ferdinand requested Wellington to keep them as a token of his gratitude for his services in belping to place him on the shrone of Spain.

Since Waterloo looting in wars between civilized nations has been virtually abandoned. It is, however, still tolerated in conflicts with barbarous or semi-barbarous foes. As most of Engtolerated in conflicts with barbarous or semi-barbarous foce. As most of Eng-land's wars during the last 100 years have been with Asiatic and African poemiage, it is not astonishing that Windsor Castle should be filled with loot and more plunder distributed among the national museums.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRISS-P.M.1

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Dun's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say that manufacturing activity steadily increases, testfying to the general confidence in a heavy demand next year, and the leading branches of business report seasonable confidions. Holiday goods selimore freely than staples, but all classes of merchandles are going into larger consump-at least no chance of a decline.

Fish were in fair stock as to rock cod, halibut and smelt, but all were cleaned immediately on arrival and by noon the market was nearly bare, the Friday demand absorbing all. Other varieties were not to be had. Weather is not very favorable for fishing.

Game was a little better than during the last few days previous. Some rabbits and wild geese were received, but timmediately taken up, Wild ducks were scarce.

The fancy Colorado apples have been practically eliminated from the market. Only a very few stocks remain and are laid at $2.25. The stock coming now is all of the kind that is frequently spoken of by the name of Ben Davis, that includes Ganos, and it is generally inferior in quality. Some dealers have lost on this stock. The opinion is now expressed that the Christmas apples will come largely from cold storage. A car of fancy Missouri Pippins from Northern California came in two days ago and is now all sold out at 1.00@1.10. The California and Northern Pacific Coast stock is coming more into evidence every day. The Colorado seen its best days here.

Eggs were quoted generally at $4@36 on the street. The higher digare was reported to be hard to get and could be obtained only for the best stock. As low was 32 cents was paid shippers in the country by city jobbers and there was some talk of this going lower. Many country merchants have large of stocks on hand, according to reports, which he hand, according to reports, which he nables them to sell without loss at the low rate offered by jobbers.

NON-UNION MAN ASSAULTED.

TTEMPT TO MURDER SANTA FE MACHINIST.

ed by Would-be Assassin Who Wielded Murderous Club. Cowardly Crime Laid to Door of Union Strikers—Outlook for Sussected Train-robbers is Brighter

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 16 .- An at tempt to murder Harry Perrigal, a non-munion machinist employed at the Santa Fe shops, was made last night shortly after 12 o'clock, and would have been successful but for cowardice on the part of the assailant, who fied when Perrigal commenced to lustily call for help.

Perrigal commenced to dustry help.

Perrigal was returning to his room at the home of J. B. Brubaker, on Kingman avenue, and when turning the corner of I and Kingman, was suddenly attacked by an unknown man who had been lying in wait in the shadow of the Santa Fé fence which surrounds the shops.

Before Perrigal was well aware of his danger, he had been dealt a terrific blow with a club on the top of his head, his scalp being gashed open six inches. Instantly he commenced to cy for help, and without trying to strike another blow the would-be assassin fied, being out of sight before assistance arrived.

The injured man was unconscious assistance arrived.

The injured man was unconscious when carried to his room, but soon revived. He was unable to give any description of his assailant. That is latter was one of the strikers is the belief in some quarters, and gives color to the rumor that lately the strikers have become desperase in their lost cause, and have picketed the Santa Fe property so thoroughly that every employé is under surveillance, and all who remain outside the stockade at night are in danger of being assaulted.

DAGGETT'S DRY SPELL.

The status of Daggett as a closed town will be one of the most lively questions coming before the County Supervisors at their next meeting. It will be remembered that the temperance people quietly worked up a successful campaign for local option at the last general election, and now they blaim that the new conditions should commence January 1, 1966, while the saloon dealers contend that as their elections do not expire until next July they can continue until that time to sell Biguer. A committee of the temperance people will appeal to the hoard to decide the question, but should this momnittee not receive any satisfaction the citizens will proceed against every flour of the year.

A burgiary was committed last night at the Armour Fertilizer Works east of the city. F. W. Baudy, mianger of the Works, reported to the officers his morning that Mexicans employed by the company heard a disturbance in the main building at about 10 o'clock.

Nearly every time the name of Senator F. M. he is the last of the rebel brigadiers in the Senate.

This must provoke smiles whenever it falls under the eyes of Senators Pettus and Morgan of Alabama, for they were rebel brigadiers and have always, been proud of the fact. They mention the fact in the Congressional Directory, the official publication of Congress, in which are told all the things Senators and Representatives want the public to know about themselves.

Senator of Morgan's record in the army is the most peculiar. He was twice made a brigadier-general. The first time he was assigned to command a brigade of Virginia troops. When the

His war rank was that of lieutenant-colonel. He got to the trenches of Santiago in time to have a few scattering shots come in his direction and then was chosen to come to Washington by officers of whom Roosevelt was one to ask that the troops be taken out of the yellow-fever belt.
